HONEYMOON IN CHICAGO.

oth Were Charged by Former Mrs. Holp with Attempting to Extort Money from the Well-Known Brooklyn Preacher.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 .- The Rev. Phill mouth Congregational Church, Brook-ign, with plagiarism, is spending his honeymoon in Chicago. He has just been married to the woman whom his wife made the correspondent me ago by boldly charging the Rev preacher and the scandal attaching to his relations with his present wife when she was Miss Fannie S. Waud. Bride and Bridegroom, Each Ap- Richly Dressed, She Was So Inwas the pastor of a little church at Angola. Id. He used to go on lecture tours a great deal. On one of his trips his wife chanced to look through his desk. She said she discovered a lot of pictures of actresses and other women.

Among them was one of "Miss Frances Jackson," of Chicago, When the min-ik months later, naming Miss Jackson as co-respondent.

That unloosed the Hillis scandal. His wife charged Holp with having been a blackmailer and aving, with the help of Frances, who afterward was found to be Miss Waud, attempted to extort money from Dr. Hillis by threatening to print charges that the then Chicago fivine had freely plagiarized from Henry Ward Beecher and David Swing.

Holp retorted that he had accused Dr. Hillis of plagiarism in 1898, and that in consequence he had been hounded by him until his own wife had forsaken him and his church was about to discomment among those present, but the comment among those present, but the own him.

There was a lively controversy in the newspapers between Holp and Dr. Hillis, in which Holp tried to substantiate his charges of plagiarism by running extracts from Hillis's books and those he was accused of cribbing from. The upshot of the matter was that Mrs. Holp got a divorce and Holp's church threw him out.

Now comes the news of his marriage. The ceremony was performed last week at the home of the bride's father in Kalamazoo Mich.
